

A Special Demonstration of Gossard Corsets Six Days—Nov. 10 to 15th.

At a considerable expense, we have made special arrangements to have Mrs. M. L. Sexton, special demonstrator of the H. W. Gossard Company, assist up in a six days' demonstration of Gossard Corsets.

This will be the style event of the season in Ogden and it is our desire to have every woman in this city visit our Corset Department some time during the week.

Styles are different this season — much different, and it requires accurate and authentic information if you from your corset, and other are to obtain the utmost wearing apparel.

During this demonstration you will not be opportuned to buy. All we ask is that you avail yourself of the information and style news which is at your disposal. Fittings can be arranged by appointment and should be done so, if possible.

Remember — there is only one place in Ogden where you can be correctly fitted to a Gossard — the original and superior front-lacing corset — and that place is this store.

We shall count it a privilege to serve you this week: Gossard Corsets at $3.50, $5.00, $6.50, $8.50 and up, will be shown. COME WITH US THIS WEEK.

BURT'S

IDAHOANS TO MEET BUSH IN NEVADA

Hoping to make the trip from Winnemucca, Nev., to Boise, Idaho, by automobile, several prominent business men of the Idaho city will meet President B. F. Bush of the Rio Grande Western Pacific, when he arrives at Winnemucca this afternoon. Among those who arrived in Salt Lake last night to make the Nevada trip are Craig Coffin, assistant cashier of the Boise National bank, and his son, Frank Coffin. Andrew Carlson, president of the Carlson-Lusk company, and Lee J. Falk, president of the Falk Mercantile stores.

The action of the Idaho men in desiring to make the trip with President Bush is the result of an enthusiastic meeting held in Boise last Saturday. All of the prominent interests of southern Idaho were represented at the meeting and every effort possible will be made by them to obtain the proposed railroad. On the arrival of President Bush and the Idaho business men, the party will take automobiles for the 250-mile trip to Boise, visiting all of the principal towns en route.

Wright's A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE

The Charity Ball

Next Friday, November 14, is the date for the Charity Ball. Every public-spirited citizen will want to help Sweet Charity by attending this, the most important social function of the season.

There will be a lot of men who will want new full dress clothes for this occasion, and of all the clothing which a man wears, the full dress suit must be correct in every detail.

Hart Schaffner & Marx have just sent to us a complete assortment of sizes in Dress Suits which are made as these great clothes builders make all of their clothing.

The most exclusive tailor in the land could not give you better models—nor better style. Every new feature which this season's style-makers have required will be found in the Full Dress Suits.

However, the clothes are here, ready for you to try on and that is a good deal of satisfaction—to be able to see before you buy, just exactly how your suit is to look.

White gloves, proper neckwear, collars and full dress jewelry will also be found here in excellent qualities.

BLACKHANDER IS NOW OPERATING IN PROVO

Provo, Nov. 9.—Provo has a blackhand operator. His demands are more modest than those of his Ogden confreres, probably because Provo is a smaller place or because the Provo blackhand is an amateur. From present indications he is not likely to graduate from the beginner's class, but he may break into jail if the officers succeed in connecting him with one of the letters which was sent through the Provo postoffice.

This letter was received by Mrs. J. E. Jensen, wife of a well-known sheepman, yesterday morning. The style was modeled on the Ogden blackhand letters. It informed Mrs. Jensen that she had more money than the writer and that he needed some of it. Also, that "we are the same people who have been at work in Ogden," and that "there is one murder against us there and one more will not make much difference." Mrs. Jensen was directed to bring $100 to the Baptist church last night at 9 o'clock and the promise was made that if she did "everything will be all right," while if she did not she might look for "something terrible to happen."

The money was taken to the church at the appointed time, but the letter failed to be on hand, and did not arrive up to 1 o'clock this morning.

Friday evening someone rang the door bell at the residence of Francis Hedquist of the Hedquist Drug company, and when Mrs. Hedquist went to the door she found a sheet of paper addressed to Mr. Hedquist, directing him to bring $100 to the Baptist church Monday evening, November 10.

The note left at the Hedquist home was written in pencil and the letter sent through the mail to Mrs. Jensen in ink. A stamp had been cut from a stamped envelope and put on the envelope containing the threatening letter.

Both letters are apparently written by the same person. They are now in the possession of Postoffice Inspector F. M. Hamilton, who with Sheriff Henry East and other local officers, is working on clues expected to lead to the identification of the sender.

IDAHO CAR SHORTAGE.

That the car shortage in Idaho will be materially relieved during the present week and that hundreds of tons of potatoes and apples, which have been held up through lack of refrigerator cars, will be moved with dispatch was the opinion expressed yesterday by J. A. Bloomquist, president of the Idaho public utilities commission.

Mr. Bloomquist was in conference yesterday morning with W. H. Bancroft, vice president and general manager of the Oregon Short Line, and J. A. Reeves, general freight agent of the road. He left last night for Boise to report to the other members of the commission. Discussing the situation, Mr. Bloomquist said:

"I came down here to co-operate with the railroad officials in the interests of the southern Idaho farmers. The car shortage has been serious, but I believe that the Short Line will have the situation well in hand within a few days. They are rushing 200 refrigerator cars into the district today and will probably send as many more daily until the potatoes and apples have been moved. I realize that the refrigerator cars are hard to get at this time of the year, when there is a big demand for them everywhere. I believe the Short Line is getting them as rapidly as possible."

Speaking of the car shortage and the efforts to relieve it yesterday, J. A. Reeves, general freight agent of the Short Line, said:

"Mr. Bancroft and I have taken the matter in personal charge and will rush the cars into that section as fast as we can get them. This is the time of year when crops are being moved everywhere and the result is always a shortage of cars, especially of the refrigerator type."

It is a regrettable fact that the irrigation farmers there in southern Idaho do not have storage facilities so that there would be no injury to the crops in the case of a situation like this. But it is a new country and those storage facilities must wait on other plans of development.

"Mr. Bancroft and I met with Mr. Bloomquist this morning and I believe he is well satisfied with the measures we are taking to relieve the situation. I believe we will have the shortage well in hand by the end of the present week."

FOUND STARVING IN STREETS OF CHICO

Chico, Cal., Nov. 9.—Saved just in time from dying of starvation, Mrs. Frances Folsom, famous as a poetess and recently the central figure in sensational divorce proceedings brought by her husband, a New York attorney, tonight lies in Sisters' hospital here under the care of physicians.

Mrs. Folsom, who came to Chico a few months ago from Reno, was found unconscious in the street. Her identity was not established until she had been brought to the hospital. Then it was learned that for some time the woman and her son had been struggling for existence and finally had fallen in the struggle. She will be cared for by the city authorities here until her friends in the east are heard from.

Mrs. Folsom was famous some years ago as a writer of poetry. She came west to Reno to secure a divorce, and while there was made the subject of charges by her husband. Leaving Reno she came here under an assumed name. When Mrs. Folsom was found in a state of collapse she was without shoes and evidently had not eaten for some time.

The duchess today indignantly denied having refused to accept service of papers from Rome as has been reported in the Paris newspapers.

CREW HELD TO BLAME.

Pocatello, Ida., Nov. 9.—Contrary to the report given out at the time of the wreck at Soda Springs, a week ago, when two firemen were killed and one brakeman had a leg cut off, that the air on one of the engines would not work, the board of inquiry yesterday made the report that the air of both engines was in good condition and places the blame for the wreck on the crew. Engineer J. E. Dean is held responsible in that he did not test the air after taking water at Novene; Brakeman F. E. Carman in that he did not cut into air after coupling engine at Novene, and Conductor Workman and Brakeman Gordon for not knowing that air was not connected.

The board of inquiry was composed of: Representatives of the public, E. W. Largilliere, banker, and E. T. Woodall, merchant of Soda Springs; A. B. Stevenson, superintendent; J. J. Lloyd, assistant superintendent; and J. E. Davis, trainmaster.

MEXICANS HELD UP AND ROBBED OF $200

Salt Lake, Nov. 10.—Three Mexicans were held up at the point of a gun and robbed of more than $200 in their room in the Railroad Exchange at 377 1-2 West South Temple street at about 9 o'clock last night. They followed their assailants in hopes of seeing where they went, but when they reached the neighborhood of the freight depot of the Oregon Short Line on First South street, the men they were following turned and fired three shots in their direction.

The men who were robbed told Detectives George Cleveland and Bert Seager, who investigated the case, that the two men came to the door of their room, which is on the third floor of the building, and one held a gun on them while the other searched their pockets and toe room. The men who were held up could not give accurate descriptions of the holdups, but said that one was an American and the other a Mexican.

All of the men held up were in the same room. They are laborers employed by the Oregon Short Line Railroad company and gave their names to the detectives as Francisco Rin, who lost $25; Erasto Serbin who lost $3, and Marcelino Rico, who lost $110.

The police were not notified until after the escaping holdups had fired on their pursuers.

MIKE YOKEL IS BACK AND READY TO GO FARMING

Mike Yokel, champion middle-weight wrestler of the world, was in Ogden yesterday on his way to his ranch home in Jackson's Hole. Yokel was on his return from Duluth and Minneapolis, where, last week, he engaged in two matches, the first with Fred Beell at Duluth and the second with Joe Carr at Minneapolis. He was to have wrestled Walter Miller at St. Paul, but inasmuch as Carr only recently beat Miller and Yokel beat Carr in straight falls, a match between Mike and Miller would not be likely to attract an uncommon amount of interest.

Yokel says that his match with Beell was a hard tussle, as every one expected it would be. Beell weighed about 175 pounds against Yokel's 156. In spite of this discrepancy in poundage Yokel stayed with his man for an hour and a half. "I think I had gone half an hour longer I would have had him," remarked Mike modestly. "He threw me with an accidental hold, but, of course, he was entitled to throw me. He was right for the match, too. He was trained to the minute and never took any chances."

In the second fall Beell dropped Yokel on the mat in such a way as to twist his head.

"My noodle was pretty sore," said Mike, "but I couldn't afford to mind a little thing like that, because I had to wrestle Carr the next night."

In connection with his match with Carr, Yokel gives his opponent credit for being a strong and fast man. Reports had it that the men wrestled an hour and twenty-two minutes for the first fall, whereas they wrestled an hour and fifty-two minutes, says Mike.

"He was a tough man, that Carr," Mike said, "and even after he had wrestled an hour and fifty-two minutes for the first fall, he showed a surprising strength in the second fall and I had to be mighty cautious and patient before I got the right hold."

Yokel says the Beell match in Duluth drew the largest house he has ever seen at a wrestling bout.

"They held it in an immense curling rink," said Yokel, "about as big as the hippodrome. Saltair, and every inch was filled. Inasmuch as I took the guarantee and didn't take a chance on the house, I came off somewhat short in a financial way of what I would have had if I had taken a chance on the per centage. Two newspaper boys of Duluth got up the match, and I am told they cleared something like $1400 apiece. The crowd was more than satisfied, and Beell and I certainly put up the best we had for more than an hour."

Yokel will remain on his ranch for the present. He will let the wrestling game take its course for a time, and after the situation is cleared and another contender for the title emerges from the elimination series he will see what is to be done. Meantime he will hunt for an elk or two

SUIT CASE THIEF IS GIVEN 75 DAYS BY JUDGE REEDER

Seventy-five days or $75 was the sentence given this morning to John Martin by Judge W. H. Reeder after Martin had pleaded guilty to stealing a suit case, valued at $17.50, from the basement of Wrights Department store.

Martin held nothing back. He admitted that he had tried to take the case to realize upon it in some pawn shop or second-hand store.

Jim Sullivan, charged with disturbing the peace, furnished the amusement for police court spectators this morning. He was arrested last night and was released on bail. This morning he told his story in such exuberant spirits that the judge asked:

"How many drinks have you had today?"

"One, your honor," said Sullivan.

"I wouldn't lie to you for the world, sir."

"Was it a big or a little one," pressed the judge.

"To be truthful, it was the biggest they had," was the answer.

According to the complaint, Sullivan had abused a stranger on the street. Judge Reeder fined him $15 and, after he had paid the amount, the judge directed that the man be looked after until he got on the train to Salt Lake.

Dr. McKee, charged with drunkenness, was given five days when Jailer Harkness Anderson stated that when arrested, Sweeney was blocking traffic on Twenty-fifth street by lying stretched across the sidewalk.

The case of John Doe, charged with drunkenness was taken under advisement. It was charged that he was put off a Washington avenue street car after becoming abusive.

OFFICER IS SHOT WHEN ATTEMPTING TO MAKE ARREST

Boise, Ida., Nov. 10.—Deputy Sheriff William Clawson is lying at the point of death with a bullet in his neck from the gun of Clarence Roush, an ex-convict, whom he attempted to arrest for forgery this morning. Roush is now a fugitive from justice somewhere between here and Nampa with the bloodhounds from the penitentiary on his trail.

Clawson called at the Roush home just before noon today with a warrant of arrest on a complaint sworn out by Murray Buchanan, a Boise coal dealer. Roush's mother told the officer that her son was in Nampa. But when Clawson was leaving the place he met Roush face to face. He read the warrant to him and told him he was under arrest.

"All right," said Roush, but as he spoke he whipped out a revolver and fired twice. One bullet hit the officer in the face, carrying away three of his teeth and part of his jaw. The bullet split, part of it entering the tongue and part lodging in his throat. No artery was cut and the doctors thought at a late hour they could save the man's life.

Roush ran after firing. Clawson fired three times at him but his shots went wild. The bloodhounds were ordered out at once and the sheriff offered a reward of $200 for Roush's capture. Officers everywhere were notified to be on the lookout for the fugitive. At a late hour to night he was still at large. Roush was sent to the penitentiary for five years for breaking jail in Canyon county. He was paroled after serving two years and had been out two years.

FORMER CHAMPION KILLED

Halifax, Nov. 9.—George Tracey, in 1886 and 1887 the champion half mile runner of America, was struck by a train and killed late Saturday night while crossing the tracks at Rockingham. He was 52 years old.

In 1886 Mr. Tracey won the amateur half mile running championship of America in New York and the following year in Detroit. He also took part in several Canadian championships. Mr. Tracey in his young manhood was prominent as an amateur oarsman and football player.

JAPANESE IS SHOT BY HIS WHITE WIFE

The barber shop of S. Takahashi, a Japanese, at number 223 1/2 25th street, was the scene of a near tragedy on Saturday night, with a young white woman and a Japanese named Yohikawa, whom she said was her husband, as the principals.

Yohikawa had entered the shop near the closing hour, had been shaved and was just going into the bathroom, when his wife appeared at the front door seeking admission. The door opened by the proprietor and the woman entered in an apparently unconcerned manner. When, as she neared her husband, whose back was turned toward her, she said to him, "I want to speak to you," and as he turned about, she drew a revolver from a pocket of her coat and fired point blank at him, the bullet finding its mark in the right side of his abdomen. He fell to the floor and with amazing coolness the woman put the revolver back into her pocket and walked over to him, as he lay still conscious but suffering intense pain and spoke to him in Japanese.

The proprietor of the shop S. Takahashi and J. Murakami of 258 Twenty-fifth street were witnesses to the shooting and these, with several other Japanese who were in the rear room, the woman assisted in carrying her wounded husband to the rear room.

Dr. G. W. Dickson was called and while he was examining the wounded Japanese, the woman talked to her victim continuously in the Japanese language, bathed his temples and appeared to desire the physician to give him the best of attention.

Detective Thomas Burk arrived soon after the shooting and took the revolver from the woman, examined and took from it two shells, one of them empty. The revolver was a .32 caliber. When he asked her how the man had been shot Mrs. Yohikawa said that he had shot himself and when he was placed in the ambulance she still endeavored to see that he was properly cared for.

The woman was taken to the police station in the auto-patrol, but before the officers could search her, she pulled a number of letters from her bodice and attempted to destroy them. Her desire was frustrated by the officers, who took the letters from her hands intact. This seemed to break her calm for the first time and she began to yell and fight to free herself, and refused to make any other statement, except to reiterate that Yohikawa had shot himself.

Mrs. Grace Yohikawa is an exceptionally pretty white woman and when she gave her age as 23 years, the statement, judging from her appearance was nearly correct. A wedding ring was her only piece of jewelry.
